Description

Hoodwinked Games is a small 2-man development team from Western Australia. Starlost is the first title from Hoodwinked Games.

History

Hoodwinked Games was founded in early 2015 by Chris Hitchins and Kenneth Johnson.

Working from their home offices, Hoodwinked began work on their first title: Starlost. Each developer worked on a separate prototype, finally combining the best of both into the main project.

After a brief development cycle, Starlost hit the Google Play store as an alpha product for feedback.

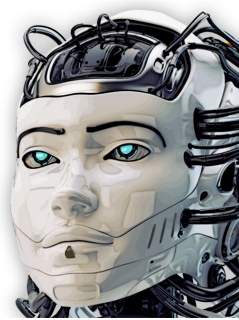

Players loved it – giving Hoodwinked the motivation to continue building their creation.

After a three-year development cycle, Starlost was released in early 2018 as a free to play game supported by in app purchases and ads.

What's next for Hoodwinked? Following financial success of Starlost, the fictional universe will be expanded with a multiplayer sequel titled Starlost: Space War.
